

Download Clinical Pathways In Vitreoretinal Disease

Metamorphopsia

Metamorphopsia is a type of distorted vision in which a grid of straight lines appears wavy and parts of the grid may appear blank. People can first notice they suffer with the condition when looking at mini-blinds in their home. It is mainly associated with macular degeneration, particularly age-related macular degeneration with choroidal neovascularization.

Other Files :